SUMMARY

As a Computer Science Engineering student, I'm passionate about learning how technology can solve real-world problems. Started my journey with C and Python, and developing projects like games and simple applications to strengthen my coding skills. Seeking an internship to apply technical and analytical skills in real-world projects.

CERTIFICATIONS

- Software engineering and ALM (Infosys springboard)
- Python 101 for Data Science (IBM cognitive class)
- Interfacing with the Arduino (Coursera)

PROJECTS

- Developed a playable Tetris game using Python and Pygame, demonstrating strong logic building and GUI programming skills.
- Designed and developed a responsive website to promote health awareness. Which included sections for health camps, fitness, diet plans and contact forms.
- Built a system that generate power from footsteps using Arduino UNO and piezoelectric sensors. which showcased renewable energy innovation and electronics skills.

SKILLS

- Programming in Python and C.
- Currently learning Data structures and algorithms, Analytical and logical thinking.
- Quick learner , supports teamwork.
